

DISGUSTED BOY
GLOBE TROTTER IS ON WAY HOME.

After Walking All Over
Country He Becomes Weary.

HURLS LEGGINS AND HAT AWAY

Thomas Carroll Reached Connellsville
Last Evening and Tells of His Wanderings About Country—Is Deserted
By His Pals.

Disgusted, disconsolate, weary and lonely, his pals having deserted him and becoming fitted of life, Thomas Carroll a boy globe trotter arrived in Connellsville last evening and has decided to give up his wanderings and settle down. He is now on his way to Philadelphia where a relative lives with whom he intends to make his home after walking over the greater part of the United States. Almost three years ago he left Tampa Fla., and since that time has been continually on the move.

During the wanderings of this juvenile pedestrian he has gained a store of knowledge, endured hardships and met situations that have been of great value to him. He is now in his life no, but still he is still a boy with boyish mannerisms and juvenile enthusiasms in spite of his being homeless the lad continues to adhere to the home teachings he received from his parents who are dead, and his clothing was brushed clean, his hands and face devoid of travel stains and his shoes polished.

When he departed from Tampa on January 12 1936 he had three companions, but they began to desert him on his emileux tramp. The last of those left him in Montana and from there he went to the same place as Carroll tries that he has not ridden 1000 miles on a trolley car that was not necessary in crossing rivers and like places. He claims to have walked farther than any other lad of his age in the country, but having done so he is disgusted with the life and will become a citizen of Philadelphia. His walk from this place to that city will end his wanderings.

The decision of Carroll to return to his relatives was made between this place and McKeesport. Hurling his broad brimmed hat and leggings in a ditch, he resolved to go to his relatives and this is the first place he has reached since making the resolve. During the years of his travels the and has made his expenses through the sale of post cards and newspapers in the larger cities

FIVE HUNDRED MEN FIGHT BARN FIRE.

Prevent Flames From Spreading and Destroying Block of Houses at Star Junction.

Fire at Star Junction yesterday afternoon completely destroyed a large barn owned by the Ebehard Coal & Coke Company. The fire was discovered by a foreman who was passing the building. It was thought for a time that the entire block of houses owned by the company would be destroyed. About 600 men from Washington Run formed a bucket brigade and worked valiantly to keep the fire from spreading. Early in the afternoon several small children were seen playing about a haystack in the rear

The building was filled with hay and grain and at the time the fire broke out about eight horses were in the barn. The horses were gotten the barn. The horses were gotten out of the building and escaped injury. The loss has not yet been estimated by the company.

For Y. M. C. A. Will

up Sunday afternoon meetings at the theatre which proved so popular last year, will probably be taken up. Upon the return of Fred Prosch, physical director preliminary arrangements for the gym work will be taken up with the idea to get the work started about the last part of this month.

The educational department as last year, will be one of the striking features of this year's work. Immediately after Monday's meeting the various committees in charge of the departments will take up their work and it is expected that before the close of September everything will be in good running order for the winter campaign.

1948

In Social Circles.

Free-Keiser
The First Presbyterian church at Clifton, Pa. was the scene of a beautiful wedding last evening at 8 o'clock when Miss Edna May Keiser, daughter of Mrs. Lillian Keiser of Clifton, became the bride of Arthur Preston Freed of Conneltsville. Rev. Dr. Jesse C. Bruce, the pastor, officiated. Samuel M. Brown of Clifton presided at the organ. Preceding the ceremony Miss Florence G. Mue Watt of Warren, Pa., rendered several solos, accompanied on the violin by S. J. Stoughton of Clifton. As the bride party entered the church the "Bridal Chorus," from Lehengrin, was sung by Miss Mae Watt, Mrs. J. Smith DeMuth of Clifton, Pa., and Mrs. Thomas V. Cullison of Bellevue. The bridesmaids were Misses Elizabeth Eakin Gutz and Mildred Harrison Gutz, wearing white dresses, and carrying bouquets of pink blossoms. The groomsmen were Mr. J. Smith DeMuth, a cousin of the groom, Thomas Cullison of Bellevue, Charles McMillan of Scottsdale and Hugh R. Lytle of Uniontown were ushers.

The church decorations were carried out with palms and ferns while the color scheme of pink and white was arranged with autumn flowers. A large reception at the house followed the ceremony. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Freed will be at home to their friends at their new home on Ninth street, Greenwood. Mr. Freed is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Freed, prominent residents of Dunbar township, and is a clerk for the Schott Hardware Company.

Epworth League Entertained.
The Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal church was pleasantly entertained last evening by Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Swartzwalder, Thelma Hornum South Prospect street. During the business session arrangements were completed for the B. A. T. N. A. T. and L. A. T. social to be held in the church next Tuesday evening under the auspices of the league. Arrangements were also completed for the old folks' reception to be held in the church Saturday afternoon, September 19. The business session was followed by a very enjoyable social hour, during which time various games and music helped to make the occasion a most delightful one. Refreshments were served. The meeting was largely attended and was a most enthusiastic one. Several members of the Dawson Epworth League, among whom was Rev. J. D. Brison attended the meeting.

Auxiliary to Meet.
The regular monthly meeting of the C. W. B. M. Auxiliary of the Christian church will be held in the church tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The meeting will be in the form of a membership rally, looking toward increasing the membership and getting together all the old members. Mrs. S. S. Stahl is program leader, while Mrs. John Robinson will act as hostess. Mrs. W. D. Cunningham, wife of Rev. D. D. Cunningham, will talk on "The Women of Japan." All members are requested to attend.

Social Union Meeting.
Largely attended was the meeting of the Social Union of the First Baptist church held last evening in the church. The meeting was the opening one for the year and was pronounced by all present as a most instructive and enjoyable one. During the early part of the meeting short talks on vacations were given by Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Palmquist, Mrs. T. A. Lyon and Mrs. W. H. Doffenbaugh. The next portion was taken up with a reception after which refreshments were served. About 45 were present.

Concert and Dance.
The Tenth Regiment Band will hold a band concert and dance Friday evening in Army hall. Heretofore the concerts have proved very successful and it is expected that a large crowd will turn out to the dance. The band has been well patronized and has been one of the most enjoyable features. The concert will commence at 8 o'clock. A small fee will be assessed the gentlemen who care to dance. All are invited to attend. An excellent musical program will be rendered.

To Open Mite Boxes.
The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Foreign Mission Society of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. Dunn on South Prospect street. The annual mite box opening will take place and a large attendance is desired.

Married at Cumberland.
Miss Winnie Miller daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller of Wheeling and Harry Downs a well known young man of Uniontown, were married in Cumberland yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Downs is returned to Conneltsville last evening.

Missionary Meeting.
The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Home and Foreign Mission Society of the First Presbyterian church is being held this afternoon in the church chapel. A special program is being rendered.

Youth Medical Club.
The regular monthly meeting of the Youth Medical Club will be held tomorrow evening at the home of Dr. H. J. Coll on West Apple street. All members are requested to attend.

Returned from Camp.
Miss Mary Washington and Miss Carrie Francis returned home from Old Town Md., where they spent three weeks at Camp Frazer. There were about 30 in camp.

ALUMNI MEETS

High School Graduates Hold Session and Will Seek New Members.
The first quarterly meeting of the Conneltsville High School Alumni was held last evening in the High School building. The attendance was fairly large and the meeting was a most interesting one.

A committee composed of Lloyd Shaw, Charles Cecil Dr. Walter Goldsmith and Clifford Edwards, was appointed to arrange for a dance to be held some time in November. Clyde Weike, Miss Pearl Fries and Miss Grace Altman composed a committee appointed to canvass the graduates in order to get new members. The next meeting will be held Monday evening, December 1, in the High School building. All members and all those desiring to become members are earnestly requested to attend.

FAYETTE PHYSICIANS MEET AT BROWNSVILLE

Doctors From Many Places Present at Interesting Session at Pennsylvania Hotel.

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Fayette County Medical Association was held last evening in the parlors of the Pennsylvania hotel in Brownsville. The meeting was attended by physicians from all over the county and was pronounced one of the best and most enthusiastic meetings held for some time.

Interesting papers were read and discussed. During the regular business session of the evening several acts to be presented to the State Legislature at its coming session were read and approved by the society and committees were appointed to look after the interests of the profession.

The first paper was by Dr. O. Neal of Uniontown on "Joints Abnormalities" and discussed by Dr. C. C. Reigh and Dr. Brownsville. The second was by Dr. Leroy Wagoner on "Gastric Intestinal Disorders of Childhood" and discussed by Dr. A. S. Hagan of Uniontown.

A committee appointed for the next meeting selected Dr. J. D. Sturgeon of Uniontown, Dr. G. W. Gallagher of New Haven, with discussions opened by Dr. T. B. Echard of Conneltsville and Dr. T. N. Eastman of Uniontown.

Those present were Dr. J. P. Sangston of McConnellsburg, President of the society, and Dr. J. S. Hickey, Secretary, of Uniontown. Dr. H. J. Atkinson, Dr. H. J. Coll, Dr. V. J. Bailey, Dr. L. P. McCormick and Dr. T. H. White of Conneltsville. Dr. H. J. Bell, of Dawson, Dr. Herbert Hall of Vanderbilt, Dr. C. H. Davidson of New Salem, Dr. C. H. Laclair, Dr. J. P. Hatten, Dr. A. E. Crow, Dr. A. S. Hagan, Dr. A. O. Neal of Uniontown, Dr. George Housel, Dr. G. C. and L. L. Ralchard, Dr. A. C. Smith, Dr. L. Roy Wagoner, Dr. Colley Miller and Dr. Wilbur Lilly of Brownsville.

The next meeting will be in Uniontown the first Tuesday in November. Dr. J. P. Sangston will attend the State Society meeting at Cambridge Springs as a delegate from this society the latter part of the week.

LADS ON STREETS AT NIGHT UNDER BAN.

Police Send Youngsters Home Playing on Thoroughfares When They Should Be in Bed.

Not only is the local police department after worthless dogs and keeping the streets free from objectionable female characters but they are sending youngsters home who daily about the town after 8 o'clock at night. Last night several little fellows were given a warning by the officers and started on their way home.

It is not exactly a curfew law in its fullest sense yet it has the effect of keeping youngsters off the streets at an hour when they should either be at their studies or in bed. Although school started on Monday it had nothing to do with the action of the officers but it will undoubtedly be responsible for some better recitations the next morning.

King's Daughters' Corn Supper.
Extensive arrangements are being made by the Whittaker Circle of the King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church for the corn supper to be held in the church chapel Thursday night between the hours of 5 and 8 o'clock. Corn will be served in various ways and a most enjoyable evening is promised those who attend. Price of tickets, 25 cents.

Paying Bills as Usual.
Charlie Smith has been out of work for two months, but is paying his bills as usual and looks prosperous. How does he do it? Ask the Citizens' National Bank Savings Department. You may want to follow the same plan.

Opening Dance.
Pitcher's hall will be reopened for the fall and winter seasons dancing by Kieffers six piece orchestra Thursday evening September 3. Dancing from 8 P. M. to 2 A. M. Everybody invited.

Try Them.
Try our classified advertisements, only one cent a word.

PADDY MCGEE IS A PROBLEM TO COUNTY.

Has Been in All Institutions and Many Other Places and is General Nuisance.

What to do with Paddy McGee is not only a problem to the local officers but to the county authorities as well. The responsibility of Paddy is taken from the shoulders of the local police for a time at least, as he has been committed to jail at Uniontown, but his reception at the county seat was not a pleasing one.

When Chief Rottler took him to the prison last night he was seen from afar by one of the deputies and he drew a long face as Paddy was presented. Paddy has gone the limit of the institutions of the county. He has been an inmate of the County Home, but has been sent away. He has been sent to jail but liberated. He has been an inmate of the local police station, of each house and almost every other place about town that would afford shelter to him.

A charge of vagrancy will be made against him at the coming term of court and he may be disposed of for a time at least.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

Pitcher Cannon and Friend Almost Struck by Falling Piece of Building.
White leaning on a high railing at the entrance of the Pittsboro shop in the basement of the Title & Trust building yesterday at noon Pitcher Cannon of the Conneltsville baseball team and a young man named Barnes had a narrow escape when a steel punch was hurled violently from the top of the Second national skyscraper. John G. Fenton had the thumb of his left hand mangled and received a severe thump in the side. Fenton was standing a yard or more from Cannon and Barnes. The punch was hurled in the purpose of smashing it for the driving bolt. The work of the punch was to drive the bolt into the piece of steel through the beam and it struck Cannon's head and dropped the ball between the two men.

GATHERING FOR CONVENTION

Sunday School Workers From Three Counties to Hold Meeting.
UNION TOWN, Pa., Sept. 1.—The purpose of attending a second annual meeting of the Three County Sunday School Association (meeting) from the three counties which comprise the district from which the membership comes are arriving in Uniontown today.

The sessions will start this evening in the church of the Brethren. The topics included in the program are Washington and Fayette in Pennsylvania and Montgomery West Virginia. Sessions will be held this evening and all day tomorrow the convention adjourning after the meeting tomorrow night. Several prominent Sunday school workers will address the meetings.

Death Overlooks Infant.
Several hours after the home of Howard and Lillian Rodgers on High land avenue had been brightened by the arrival of a baby girl the grim reaper entered the home and removed from their midst their little son Clyde Leroy aged 10 months. His death was due to summer complaint and was very sudden. No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral.

Try our classified advertisements, only one cent a word.

Local and Personal Mention.

Mrs. A. A. Withersall was the guest of friends at Dawson yesterday afternoon. Mrs. M. L. Smith of Uniontown was a guest of friends at Uniontown yesterday. Mrs. J. S. Hickey of Uniontown was a guest of friends at Uniontown yesterday.

NEW HAVEN.
Local Matters from the Sister Borough Across the Youghiogheny.
Miss Edith Dunn of Seventh street was the guest of friends at Uniontown yesterday. Mrs. J. S. Hickey of Uniontown was a guest of friends at Uniontown yesterday. Mrs. J. S. Hickey of Uniontown was a guest of friends at Uniontown yesterday.

GERMANY A NATION OF SOLDIERS Every Native Son Must Qualify

Germany has the largest and finest standing army in Europe and every native son must serve. The slightest physical weakness is, however, cause for rejection, as only the strongest can undergo the severity of a German soldier's life.

Within two days after the declaration of the Franco-Prussian war, Germany had one million trained soldiers on the French frontier. One million physically perfect men ready for all the hardships and horrors of a protracted war. Today, she could duplicate this remarkable feat and place on a war footing an army of even greater proportions.

From such men have come the German-American race, which has been so great a factor in this country's history. The German is keen—strong—alert and successful and is to be found wherever there is work to be done.

This strength of mind and character has not sprung from the use of nerve destroying tea and coffee, but from tissue building and health preserving Lager Beer. Germany is the Beer drinking nation of the world, she is also one of the foremost and aggressive.

Pittsburgh Brewing Co.'s Beer is the concentrated extract of the most nutritious food grains and is rich in tonic and tissue building qualities.

When you are fagged out physically and mentally, a cool, refreshing bottle of Pittsburgh Brewing Co.'s Beer will restore your energy, tone up the nerves and stimulate your appetite.

On Sale at All Good Dealers.

Connellsville Brewery.

Little Talks on Insurance

Under the above caption, we will bring to attention from time to time matter of importance and interest in connection with insurance in all its various branches. First we beg to announce that we conduct the oldest general insurance agency in Conneltsville and represent the strongest and leading companies. We are prepared to protect you through old and reliable companies, against losses caused by Fire, Lightning, Wind Storms, breaking of Plate Glass, Steam Boilers, and Elevator accidents, Rental Income and Burglary. We make a specialty of Employers and General Liability Insurance. We insure Automobiles against losses by collision and most any description of accidents, also against theft of machine, appliances or tools. We write life, accident and health insurance, insuring the most liberal policies on the market. The above classes of insurance will be treated singly and in detail for your information and instruction, at our starting, within the next few days with Fire Insurance.

We do a general bonding business, making a specialty of contractors' and lodge bonds. If desired, we bond officers to the lodge instead of the individual officers. This matter will likewise be treated in detail in turn.

We attend to the collection of rents and do a general real estate business. Also loan money on approved securities.

There is always some one in the office, and we shall be glad to have you call at any time. We will take pleasure in explaining and promptly attending to anything in connection with our line of business.

ROBBINS & HOOD

HOWARD L. ROBBINS SAM F. HOOD
Weike Building, Corner Main and Pittsburgh Sts.,
Over Second National Bank.

Let Us Be Your Waiter

We never tire of helping others when they ask for good job printing. We can tickle the most exacting typographic appetite. People who have partaken of our excellent service come back for a second serving. Our prices are the most reasonable, too, and you can always depend on us giving your orders the most prompt and careful attention. Call at this office and look over our samples.

Read and Follow the Directions.

You cannot expect to get the best results from P. & G. Naphtha Soap if you do not use it in the right way.

When you buy a cake of P. & G. Naphtha Soap, please read the directions on the inside of the wrapper.

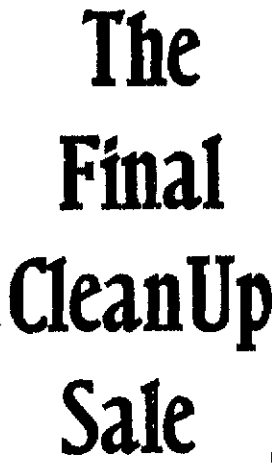

They tell you how to wash clothes in half the time and with half the effort it now takes... without boiling them... without rubbing the life out of them on a washboard... without standing for hours, over a tub of hot water.

P. & G. Naphtha Soap is unlike ordinary laundry soap. It should not be used as ordinary soaps are. That is why we ask you to take the trouble to read the directions. They are very simple.

P. & G. Naphtha Soap is for sale in almost every grocery in this city.

The Price is 5 Cents a Cake.

A Final Price Cut—A Quick Decisive Selling—Choice Bits for Buyers—Everything Summery Reduced ❖

Fall goods are ordered—some are coming in daily. They must have room for display—its their time now. Summer Goods must make way for them.

And low prices—prices at cost and below, is the power which will hurry, reduce and clear. To speed the selling, prices are low beyond precedent. Other merchants would be glad to take over our entire stocks at these prices but we prefer to give our patrons these saving opportunities.

SALE NOW GOING ON; LASTS ONE WEEK

We have just about 20 Suits in our stock at the above price. So remember, first come first served. $15.00 Panama Suits at $5.40
Colors, blue, brown Copenhagen, etc, sizes from 14 to 18

$5.40

New Fall Styles in Not Waists, trimmed with eluny lace and medallions; $3.40 values. Special

1/2 price.

You choice of any wash suit in our house .. $2.89

25c value Corset Cover	16c
50c value Corset Cover	37c
25c Muslin Drawers	16c
50c Muslin Drawers	37c
$1.00 Muslin Skirts	67c
$1.50 Muslin Skirts	97c
50c Muslin Chemise	37c
$1.00 Muslin Chemise	68c
50c Muslin Gowns	38c
$1.00 Muslin Gowns	73c
$1.50 Muslin Gowns	98c

One lot of Ladies Ribbed Vests some with winged sleeves worth 12½¢, special . . . 80

10c reduced to	7c	One lot Flannelettes that sold up
12½c reduced to	4½c	to 12½c at	6½c
16c reduced to	11½c	One lot of Outing Flannels that sold
18c reduced to	13½c	up to 16c at	8c

8c value	..	10 1/2c	Ladies' Cloth, in grey, red and blue,
7c value	..	7 1/2c	50 inches wide, reduced to..... 38c
12 1/2c value	..	9 1/2c	Cotton Voiles, in Alice blue, leather
10c value	..	7 1/2c	brown and champagne, 50c values,
5c value	..	4 1/2c	now 25c
Silkline and Cleton Draperies that			A few Cotton Plaids reduced to 10c
sold for 15c now	8c		per yard
A few Mixed Wool and Cotton			Guinea Cloth reduced to 10c per
Plaids that sold up to 50c now	22c		yard
			Wash Silks in almost all shades, reduced to..... 29c

NORMANVILLE Sept. 2.—Mrs. Lina Miller of North Pittsburgh street, Connellville is visiting friends in the city.

Dinner J. Moore and wife of Centerville home tract county time over Sunday on a business and pleasure trip.

Miss Mary Ann Smith of West Virginia for a week's vacation.

David C. Hen and a party of friends from the city were in town. Henry Gandy and took dinner at the substantial home of Abraham D. Eicher, just east of town.

Friday J. H. Eicher was a Uniontown visitor. Ed. Hild.

John L. Rogers was at Connellville Sunday to see his friends.

Charles E. Eicher and wife and Seltzer left Saturday for a visit among friends at Blueville.

Alex. K. Omer and family of near Connellville came up Saturday and remained on Sunday.

Ex-Sheriff Geo. A. McCormick of Dunbar, Pa. is a representative person at the polo game at Saturday.

George Brookman of Connellville attended the polo playing and incidentally attended to a little business Saturday.

Frank Fegum and family of Mill Run, Pa. were at the home of A. G. C. Sherbondy over Sunday.

The Kelly brothers of Hammondville visited at the home of Edward Shank on Sunday.

Miss Ott Brooks after a lengthy visit to friends at Scott Haven has returned home.

Mrs. Grant Anderson and daughter of Connellville are visiting Henry Hall.

THE LAST SAIL OF SEASON DROWNS 7.

Sloop Goes Over on Beam
Ends Near Deer
Isle, Me.

ATTEMPTS AT RESCUE FUTILE.

Weighted Down by Wet Clothing, Victims Sink to Death While Their Companions Fight to Save Them
From Watery Grave

Deer Isle, Me., Sept. 2.—Seven summer visitors of a party of ten were drowned by the capsizing of a thirty-five foot sloop in Penobscot bay, off this island. The drowned were Miss Alice Torro, Washington; Miss Eleanor Torro, Washington; Miss Kelllogg, Baltimore; Mrs. Lucy S. Crawley, Philadelphia; Miss Elizabeth G. Evans of Mount Holyoke seminary, Mass.; James C. Hutchins, Bangor.

The saved Captain Haskell, Deer Isle, Professor Edwin S. Crawley University of Pennsylvania, husband of Mrs. Crawley, Henry B. Evans, Mount Holyoke, brother of Miss Elizabeth Evans.

The bodies of Miss Kelllogg and Miss Evans were recovered. There was some hope that Mr. Hutchins had been saved, as when last seen he was making a brave struggle through the choppy seas toward Barron Island. A boat was sent from this place in an effort to locate him.

Dr. Captain Samuel Haskell the party of light-headed summer people started out for a sail in Penobscot bay. It was drawing near the close of the vacation season and they had planned this as their last outing together. The wind was from the south west and squally. The sloop was of the "open" variety. It had no deck forward and no cabin, as many of the small Maine boats have, and it contained no ballast, as the party of ten weighed the boat down quite heavily and Captain Haskell, an experienced navigator in these waters thought that the craft would be well balanced.

Breeze Blows Up Very Strong
The party had scarcely been gone an hour before the wind freshened heeling the sloop well over and dashing the spray upon the occupants. There was no thought of danger until the afternoon was drawing to a close, when Captain Haskell decided that the wind was too heavy for his boat and the sea too choppy, so he brought the sloop around and started on a tack homeward.

All the party were perched high up on the weather side, as the sloop cut through the waves with the water all most coming over the gunwales on the lee side, when Captain Haskell gave a shout of warning that he was going to tack and then threw over the tiller. Just at this moment the boat rose high up on a wave exposing her to the full brunt of the wind. An unusually heavy gust struck her and in a twinkling the sloop went over her beam ends and the party were thrown into the water.

For one brief moment it was everyone for oneself. Captain Haskell saw that the boat's tender was right side up and shouting to Professor Crawley and Henry Evans who were nearest to him, he directed them to make for the tender doing so at the same time himself. Professor Crawley however still clinging to the overturned sloop looking for his wife while Evans was trying vainly to locate his sister.

No Chance For a Rescue.
In the meantime Haskell had gained the tender and had clambered aboard. Cutting it loose he picked up the oars and, bringing the boat in near Crawley and Evans he helped them aboard. He was so busy that the only way they could help the women folk was from the rowboat. But even then the women were beyond help. Weighted down by their water-soaked clothes and chilled by the cold water they had been unable to keep themselves afloat. Some had grabbed the person nearest them by the hand and in some instances they had gone down together clasped in each other's arms.

"The three men in the tender found that they were almost as incapable of giving assistance in their boat as they had been in the water. The wind was too high and the sea too rough for them to handle the boat. They were in grave danger of being blown down once more into the water.

"The upset however had been seen from Eagle Island not far from the scene of the accident and a sloop was sent out to pick up the survivors. The rescuing party reached the tender just in time and pulled the three exhausted men aboard. Of the rest of the party but two were in sight, and the boat was headed for them. They were Lucie Kelllogg and Miss Evans. They were unconscious and although the rescuers worked vigorously over them all efforts to restore life failed. The bodies were taken ashore.

The boat sent to Barron Island to hunt for Hutchins returned unsuccessful. It is considered practically certain that Hutchins sank before he could reach the island.

Philadelphia, Sept. 2.—Mrs. Lucy S. Crawley of Chestnut Hill, a suburb well known in this city especially in educational circles. Her husband, Dr. Edwin S. Crawley, whose life was saved in the boating accident, is professor of mathematics at the University of Pennsylvania. The Crawleys with their two daughters went to Maine in July and were expected home in a few days.

TRI-STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

Columbus, O. Sept. 2.—Governor Harris has granted a requisition from Illinois for Frank Hines under arrest at Zanesville and wanted in Chicago on the charge of larceny.

Ashtabula, O. Sept. 2.—A L. Bair bonhomme chief steward on the steam sloop C. A. Eddy fell into the ship's hold while going to the captain's quarters for his pay and was killed.

Youngstown, O. Sept. 2.—Mrs. Mary Wonderlich of Coalburg is in a very serious condition from the explosion of a doughnut. It is feared Mrs. Wonderlich will lose her sight.

Corry, Pa. Sept. 2.—George Bowman, age seventy-four, was crushed to death under a portable engine near his home in Union City. A jack screw, slipped, allowing the engine to fall.

Scranton, Pa. Sept. 2.—The Lackawanna switchmen on the Scranton division voted almost unanimously to withdraw their grievances. The vote from the other divisions has not yet been received here.

Wellsboro, O. Sept. 2.—The Fetter school building at Wellsboro, valued at $50,000, was destroyed by fire. The electric fire alarm of the city failed and when the firemen did get to the blaze it was too late.

Titusville, Pa. Sept. 2.—As the result of a runaway accident in which she was thrown from a buggy and dragged several rods Mrs. Rebecca Mars of Gresham is dead. She was the widow of Ben Mars, a farmer.

Canal Dover, O. Sept. 2.—Prosecuting Attorney Wilkin of Tuscarawas county has brought suit against four county officers and newspapers who are alleged to have drawn money from the county treasury illegally.

New Castle, Pa. Sept. 2.—For the first execution in Mercer county the authorities there will borrow lawrence county's scaffold. Anabelo Lombardo is to be hanged in Mercer Sept. 29 but he apparently shows no concern over his fate.

Sharon, Pa. Sept. 2.—John Czolgoss who claims to be a brother of Czolgoss assassin of President McKinley was sentenced to the workhouse for three months by Judge Cook of South Sharon. It is claimed by the police that Czolgoss is demented.

Cleveland, Sept. 2.—Street car conductors now accept three cents in payment of a single fare provided passengers proffer even change to conductors. Five cents cash fare will continue if a person does not buy tickets in quantities of five or more.

Lima, O. Sept. 2.—At the exhibition of an aerial truck here the machine became unmanageable and struck a carriage in which a sister of a young son of A. F. Bowditch and smashed the vehicle into kindling wood. The child was unhurt save for a few scratches.

Galkpolla, O. Sept. 3.—Fire destroyed John Cheserebrow's residence and store in Mason county. It was caused by exploding oil. The family in night clothes, jumped from the building to save their lives. More than $1,500 in cash and notes was burned.

Columbus, O. Sept. 2.—The Rose county local option law being now in effect, the anti-alcohol league has started petitions in twenty-eight counties in the state for an election to oust the saloons. The law requires that 35 per cent of the voters shall petition before an election is held.

Beaver Falls, Pa. Sept. 2.—Miss Mary Scott and Miss Mildred Barnes were attacked by a footpad at an unfrequented spot but managed to escape. Shortly afterward the same thug attacked Miss Alice Clayton. The girl drew a penknife and used it so vigorously that her assailant fled.

Marion, O. Sept. 2.—Mrs. John Hibbert pleaded a case before a jury in the court of Justice of the Peace. She won a verdict in favor of her husband who had been sued for an alleged back rent by Jefferson Osborne. Neither side engaged counsel but Mrs. Hibbert, with the consent of the justice, addressed the jurors.

Countess Szechenyi Very Ill.
Vienna, Sept. 2.—A dispatch received here from Budapest states that Countess Szechenyi is seriously ill following her accouchement of a still-born child but according to the latest reports the immediate danger is past although she will be confined to bed for a long time. It appears that the countess started a few days ago with her husband on an automobile trip when she suddenly became ill. She was conveyed home to Ungvar castle and as speedily as possible doctors were summoned from Budapest.

Mark Twain's Boyhood Friend Dead.
Hannibal, Mo. Sept. 2.—Judge Thos. R. Bacon who was a boyhood friend of Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain) is dead at the age of sixty-nine. When a boy he was personally acquainted with every one of the group famous at the time of Tom Sawyer and he was a playmate of Tom Blankenship the prototype of Huckleberry Finn. Judge Bacon had lived in Hannibal the boyhood home of Clemens since 1847.

Some men earn money Others make money Others get money—Galveston News

ROOSEVELT DECLARES FLAITY FOR HUGHES.

Not Dictating But Hughes Must Be Renominated, Says President of
New York Governor

Oyster Bay, N. Y. Sept. 2.—Sagamore Hill was the scene of another political conference this subject of which was the gubernatorial nomination of the Republican party in New York state and President Roosevelt again made known in words that could not be mistaken, his attitude on the nomination of Charles D. Hughes for governor. The president told those who came to confer with him on the New York situation that it was absolutely necessary that the Republican party should renominate Governor Hughes at the coming state convention but at the same time said he had no intention of attempting to dictate what action the convention should take in the matter.

It was to William L. Ward of West Chester county, Republican, national committeeman for New York and to others interested in the matter that he told this and he authorized one of his hearers to make known his words to the newspaper representatives here. Mr. Ward is known to be one of the hardest workers against the renomination of Governor Hughes and it is believed that he came here for the purpose of influencing the president in behalf of the anti-Hughes workers. The national committee men's mission evidently was decidedly unsuccessful.

BALLOON JUST MISSES NIAGARA WHIRLPOOL.

Three Occupants of Ville Deliope Badly Used Up Is They Try to Descend

Niagara Falls, N. Y. Sept. 2.—Fear of a storm on Lake Ontario the crew of the balloon Ville de Deliope tried to descend at Niagara Falls. The rip cord failed to work properly, resulting in a poor landing. The three men in the basket got a bad shaking up and narrowly escaped death in the whirlpool rapids. Captain A. F. Mueller in charge of the balloon suffered the most. He was taken to a hospital and may be internally injured. With Captain Mueller were Perry Gregory, sixteen years old and Garold Gregory, eighteen years old, sons of C. F. Gregory of Chicago secretary of the American Federation of Aerial Clubs.

The Ville de Deliope left Columbus, O. at 8:30 o'clock Monday night. Their journey through the air was uneventful until they ran into trouble some air currents over Lake Erie and dropped to within 250 feet of the surface. Ballast was thrown out and the big bag shot up to 8,000 feet. It was young Gregory's first trip and he became very sick at the high altitude. When the balloon was above Niagara Falls it was practically without ballast and was dipping dangerously close to the ground. A storm was blowing up and Captain Mueller decided to make a landing.

The basket dragged over railroad tracks struck a barn and finally landed at the Devil's Hole 200 feet from the gorge. Two of Gerald Gregory's teeth were knocked out and his head was cut. Perry Gregory was unconscious when taken from the basket. His left ankle was sprained and his body bruised.

VICTIMS ARE BROTHERS
Corpses Found at Scenery Hill Are Identified

Washington, Pa. Sept. 2.—Dominick and James Mollica were ambushed and killed while returning with Mario Teresino from Ellsworth to Castle Shannon on Sunday Aug. 16. That is the partial solution of the mystery surrounding the discovery of the two bodies near Scenery Hill on Monday afternoon.

It is believed by Coroner Sipe of Washington county that the girls now on the ocean accompanied by the murderers and the party may have a ready reached their homes in Southern Italy. The bodies were identified by Constable McPherson of Castle Shannon. It has been established that they left their home on Sunday evening Aug. 16 to hunt for the man who had lured away their housekeeper on the west coast of Dominick that they reached Ellsworth apparently found the girl and persuaded her to return that the three were seen returning in the direction of their home that dropping to rest they were ambushed and killed. Four men were seen by the three witnesses leaving the thicket following the sound of the shooting and the girl was soon by one.

Thaw an Unwelcome Guest
Albany, N. Y. Sept. 2.—A petition is made in a report submitted to the state commission at prison by Secretary McLaughlin against the further confinement in the Dutchess county jail at Poughkeepsie of Harry K. Thaw acquitted on the charge of murder on the ground of insanity. The report says that Thaw's presence in the jail demonstrates the inefficiency of the institution.

Five Hundred Painters Strike
New Orleans, Sept. 2.—About 500 men comprising practically the total membership of the painters union are out on strike for an increase in wages amounting to about 10 per cent.

Lady Betty Across the Water

By C. N. & A. M. WILLIAMSON * COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY McCLURE, PHILLIPS & CO.

I hadn't been there long when there came a knock at the door. I went and had the door of kissing me and she hadn't. She merely patted me on the shoulder and went out leaving me to stare after her at the door after she had so far closed it.

I locked the door and would have liked to make some excuse not to open it but it was Mrs. Ess Kay's door and Mrs. Ess Kay's room just as much as it was Mrs. Ess Kay's brother I had refused.

She called in all in black like an executioner though of course executioners don't go down into history wearing chiffon trimmed with white.

"My dear Betty," said she smiling into a large armchair. I want to have a serious talk with you.

It would have been stupid pretending not to understand so I just looked at her and waited.

"I dare say you can guess what it's about," she went on. "I am very sorry about everything. But I can't help not being in love with Mr. Parker, can I?"

"I should have thought," said Mrs. Ess Kay, "that your mother's daughter would have attached very little importance to being in love. Apparently you have been as successful with you as with Lady Victoria. Believe me, Betty, there's nothing in it—nothing at all."

In what? "You call being in love?" A girl fancies a man for his eyes or his dancing, or because he is strong and she thinks she is in love with him but it's only a fancy which passes before she's been his wife for twelve months, and she wonders what she ever saw in him then. A year after you have been married to my brother you will be very fond of him and you will be one of the most important young women in America as well as in Europe. Oh, my dear you will have to take him, your mother will never forgive you if you don't. It was quite an understood thing between us when she lent you to me that if possible there was to be a match. Your beauty and name and Potter's money—He's really a very good fellow—a temper perhaps but I wouldn't give much for a man with out one and like most Americans he'll make a splendid husband."

"For you, Betty, I assure you I don't tell the duchess you've so fondly refused Potter. You must be persuaded. Be engaged to him. Let him follow you to England."

"I was a minute to throw away the being married that I should find myself I know."

"Well and if you did? It would be because you'd had the chance to change your mind."

I shook my head. I must go home to England," I said. But Mr. Parker insisted on my staying.

Mrs. Ess Kay's face hardened. "I'm afraid if you go home after refusing Potter you'll have a very poor welcome my child. The duchess has been kind enough to take me a little into her confidence. I don't think she would have sent you over with out she hadn't known something about Potter, and your sister's affairs aren't arranged yet. Oh you needn't blush and look so indignant. The duchess didn't mind putting her difficulties in a letter when I wrote her you weren't behaving quite satisfactorily and you've taken it from me that at present things stand like this—you must go back an engaged girl or else stay away until Lady Victoria is married."

If mother were different I should have hoped Mrs. Ess Kay was exasperated but as it was I believed her. I did my best to be high eyed and scornful and I told her that I was marked that I could see the duchess's letter. I liked thought it might be better, sure as I could tell.

I was sure it would be and preferred to take his contents on faith, but I was so miserable that I had to keep my eyes staring wide open to prevent the tears from playing down. I was tired and I was homesick—for Mr. and Mrs. Kay and dogs and everything except a man. I felt such a hot tangle of a creature over me that I could even imagine myself by and by, what this meant me to do. I thought the best thing was to gain a little rest. Mrs. Ess Kay should drag me kind of a concession from me which I would have to live up to after a while.

I can't talk any more about it now. I said. I believe what you say but only makes it worse for me to think that mother should have made what amounts to a kind of bargain with you. Maybe by tomorrow everything will seem so different.

She got up with a relieved air. Perhaps even she hadn't been enjoying the conversation.

Of course it won't all be so different. I was so tired that all you've been told how happy were all going to be. Now you've sleep well and dream just as if it had been a dream. I'm going to leave you in peace for the night.

I can't tell what savage feed I might have been capable of doing if she had had the idea of kissing me and she hadn't. She merely patted me on the shoulder and went out leaving me to stare after her at the door after she had so far closed it.

I was horrified to find when we arrived that the American way of saying there was 'nothing doing'—not a soul in sight, and there I was, hot and hysterical with Vivace and my dress bag looking like an escaped bur glasser. I had been so nervous while I was packing that I had been afraid of everything even the soap in the soap dish which had two great blinking bubbles at one end like a pair of goblin eyes that watched me move but I was much worse now and I could have fallen on the neck of the first official person I saw moving about the station after I had waited for perhaps a quarter of an hour. I don't know what he was but he had a speech to him for news of a train for New York instead of calling the police to take Vivace and me in charge as a dangerous pair. He scratched his head and said there was a milk train due presently if I was mighty anxious.

The milk train sounded innocent and suitable to a girl traveling at night. I even if it hadn't I should have been thankful to go in it. I couldn't buy a ticket it appeared in the ordinary way but when the milk train came my man introduced me to another. Perhaps he was a milkman anyway, which would be a very good thing, he said as a favor Vivace and I could be taken. He was a nice person and he talked a great deal after the train had given several false starts and at last had got off. I sat on my bag as I had on the docks in a bare curious car which seemed to belong to the milk car sometimes when we bumped I should have fallen on the floor if it hadn't been for him. He told me all about himself, and wanted to be told all about me but I thought nice as he was it would be safer not. He asked leading questions which it was hard to keep from answering unless I hurt his feelings but I think he somehow got the impression that I was going to see a sick relative though I never actually said so.

I don't know what time I should have got to New York. I had had to travel all the way with the milk for milk it seems objects to speed, but after we had lugged along for a couple of hours we crawled into a station where a real train was ready to start. There were just five minutes to say good-bye to my friend and buy a ticket when all dashed and piling I found myself and Vivace and the bag in a car different from any I had seen yet. I had no like easy chairs and plate of glass mirrors and wire nettings in the windows, like the one in which I had traveled to Newport but there were two rows of seats and when I was alone I was alone in New York in a first class car, and remembering his kind offer, I ventured to ask if he would come to the Turkish room at the Waldorf Astoria to help me with advice.

A messenger took the letter—such an aggressively Irish child I was sure he wouldn't waste a second on the way—and as soon as he had gone I was alone with fear that if I should come to my taking him at his word.

THE PEACH MADE ME THINK OF MR. BRETT and the little basket he had sent me on the docks. Then this thought suggested another. He had said he would do anything for me that was in his power, and if he were still in New York it was in his power to help me. He would cost to go to Chicago and he could show me how to get there.

I really believed that if I hadn't had a thought of seeing him, but once it had got into my head I welcomed it, begged it to sit down and make itself at home.

I could have clapped my hands with joy when I saw the Grand Central station and the delightful cafe au lait porters with their red caps. It looked as familiar and comforting as if I had passed through a hundred times. Instead of once, and I had the nice feeling that now something pleasant was sure to happen which one has when one first arrives in Paris.

Vivace brightened up, too, and he took me out, rather than I. I was in such a hurry to get away, for fear Potter might have come after me by a quick train and be looking somewhere that I flew along with my bag and Vivace without waiting for a porter. I followed other people out of the station with the intention of finding a cab and driving to the club where Mr. Brett was employed but though there were dozens of hackmen drawn up by the pavement they had the air of being private ones. It did seem queer that so many people should have private cars waiting for them at this particular hour (it was half past 12), but the drivers, with their tall shiny hats, smart coats and bright, clever faces, the gleam in the business 'new money' of their cab linings and appointments all forbade any other thought. I wandered wisely along the line, wondering if there were no public conveniences or any kind at the Grand Central, besides the urinals which were as appalling as a procession of African lions.

When I came to the end I caught the air of a well-groomed young man in a pale gray topcoat looking down from his high seat at the back of a dark green hansom with great round port the power to drag me back. I wanted to get as far away from them as I could before they discovered that I had gone.

I was horrified to find when we arrived that the American way of saying there was 'nothing doing'—not a soul in sight, and there I was, hot and hysterical with Vivace and my dress bag looking like an escaped bur glasser. I had been so nervous while I was packing that I had been afraid of everything even the soap in the soap dish which had two great blinking bubbles at one end like a pair of goblin eyes that watched me move but I was much worse now and I could have fallen on the neck of the first official person I saw moving about the station after I had waited for perhaps a quarter of an hour. I don't know what he was but he had a speech to him for news of a train for New York instead of calling the police to take Vivace and me in charge as a dangerous pair. He scratched his head and said there was a milk train due presently if I was mighty anxious.

The milk train sounded innocent and suitable to a girl traveling at night. I even if it hadn't I should have been thankful to go in it. I couldn't buy a ticket it appeared in the ordinary way but when the milk train came my man introduced me to another. Perhaps he was a milkman anyway, which would be a very good thing, he said as a favor Vivace and I could be taken. He was a nice person and he talked a great deal after the train had given several false starts and at last had got off. I sat on my bag as I had on the docks in a bare curious car which seemed to belong to the milk car sometimes when we bumped I should have fallen on the floor if it hadn't been for him. He told me all about himself, and wanted to be told all about me but I thought nice as he was it would be safer not. He asked leading questions which it was hard to keep from answering unless I hurt his feelings but I think he somehow got the impression that I was going to see a sick relative though I never actually said so.

I don't know what time I should have got to New York. I had had to travel all the way with the milk for milk it seems objects to speed, but after we had lugged along for a couple of hours we crawled into a station where a real train was ready to start. There were just five minutes to say good-bye to my friend and buy a ticket when all dashed and piling I found myself and Vivace and the bag in a car different from any I had seen yet. I had no like easy chairs and plate of glass mirrors and wire nettings in the windows, like the one in which I had traveled to Newport but there were two rows of seats and when I was alone I was alone in New York in a first class car, and remembering his kind offer, I ventured to ask if he would come to the Turkish room at the Waldorf Astoria to help me with advice.

A messenger took the letter—such an aggressively Irish child I was sure he wouldn't waste a second on the way—and as soon as he had gone I was alone with fear that if I should come to my taking him at his word.

THE PEACH MADE ME THINK OF MR. BRETT and the little basket he had sent me on the docks. Then this thought suggested another. He had said he would do anything for me that was in his power, and if he were still in New York it was in his power to help me. He would cost to go to Chicago and he could show me how to get there.

I really believed that if I hadn't had a thought of seeing him, but once it had got into my head I welcomed it, begged it to sit down and make itself at home.

I could have clapped my hands with joy when I saw the Grand Central station and the delightful cafe au lait porters with their red caps. It looked as familiar and comforting as if I had passed through a hundred times. Instead of once, and I had the nice feeling that now something pleasant was sure to happen which one has when one first arrives in Paris.

Vivace brightened up, too, and he took me out, rather than I. I was in such a hurry to get away, for fear Potter might have come after me by a quick train and be looking somewhere that I flew along with my bag and Vivace without waiting for a porter. I followed other people out of the station with the intention of finding a cab and driving to the club where Mr. Brett was employed but though there were dozens of hackmen drawn up by the pavement they had the air of being private ones. It did seem queer that so many people should have private cars waiting for them at this particular hour (it was half past 12), but the drivers, with their tall shiny hats, smart coats and bright, clever faces, the gleam in the business 'new money' of their cab linings and appointments all forbade any other thought. I wandered wisely along the line, wondering if there were no public conveniences or any kind at the Grand Central, besides the urinals which were as appalling as a procession of African lions.

When I came to the end I caught the air of a well-groomed young man in a pale gray topcoat looking down from his high seat at the back of a dark green hansom with great round port

I can't tell what savage feed I might have been capable of doing if she had had the idea of kissing me and she hadn't. She merely patted me on the shoulder and went out leaving me to stare after her at the door after she had so far closed it.

I was horrified to find when we arrived that the American way of saying there was 'nothing doing'—not a soul in sight, and there I was, hot and hysterical with Vivace and my dress bag looking like an escaped bur glasser. I had been so nervous while I was packing that I had been afraid of everything even the soap in the soap dish which had two great blinking bubbles at one end like a pair of goblin eyes that watched me move but I was much worse now and I could have fallen on the neck of the first official person I saw moving about the station after I had waited for perhaps a quarter of an hour. I don't know what he was but he had a speech to him for news of a train for New York instead of calling the police to take Vivace and me in charge as a dangerous pair. He scratched his head and said there was a milk train due presently if I was mighty anxious.

I can't tell what savage feed I might have been capable of doing if she had had the idea of kissing me and she hadn't. She merely patted me on the shoulder and went out leaving me to stare after her at the door after she had so far closed it.

I was horrified to find when we arrived that the American way of saying there was 'nothing doing'—not a soul in sight, and there I was, hot and hysterical with Vivace and my dress bag looking like an escaped bur glasser. I had been so nervous while I was packing that I had been afraid of everything even the soap in the soap dish which had two great blinking bubbles at one end like a pair of goblin eyes that watched me move but I was much worse now and I could have fallen on the neck of the first official person I saw moving about the station after I had waited for perhaps a quarter of an hour. I don't know what he was but he had a speech to him for news of a train for New York instead of calling the police to take Vivace and me in charge as a dangerous pair. He scratched his head and said there was a milk train due presently if I was mighty anxious.

The milk train sounded innocent and suitable to a girl traveling at night. I even if it hadn't I should have been thankful to go in it. I couldn't buy a ticket it appeared in the ordinary way but when the milk train came my man introduced me to another. Perhaps he was a milkman anyway, which would be a very good thing, he said as a favor Vivace and I could be taken. He was a nice person and he talked a great deal after the train had given several false starts and at last had got off. I sat on my bag as I had on the docks in a bare curious car which seemed to belong to the milk car sometimes when we bumped I should have fallen on the floor if it hadn't been for him. He told me all about himself, and wanted to be told all about me but I thought nice as he was it would be safer not. He asked leading questions which it was hard to keep from answering unless I hurt his feelings but I think he somehow got the impression that I was going to see a sick relative though I never actually said so.

I don't know what time I should have got to New York. I had had to travel all the way with the milk for milk it seems objects to speed, but after we had lugged along for a couple of hours we crawled into a station where a real train was ready to start. There were just five minutes to say good-bye to my friend and buy a ticket when all dashed and piling I found myself and Vivace and the bag in a car different from any I had seen yet. I had no like easy chairs and plate of glass mirrors and wire nettings in the windows, like the one in which I had traveled to Newport but there were two rows of seats and when I was alone I was alone in New York in a first class car, and remembering his kind offer, I ventured to ask if he would come to the Turkish room at the Waldorf Astoria to help me with advice.

A messenger took the letter—such an aggressively Irish child I was sure he wouldn't waste a second on the way—and as soon as he had gone I was alone with fear that if I should come to my taking him at his word.

THE PEACH MADE ME THINK OF MR. BRETT and the little basket he had sent me on the docks. Then this thought suggested another. He had said he would do anything for me that was in his power, and if he were still in New York it was in his power to help me. He would cost to go to Chicago and he could show me how to get there.

I really believed that if I hadn't had a thought of seeing him, but once it had got into my head I welcomed it, begged it to sit down and make itself at home.

I could have clapped my hands with joy when I saw the Grand Central station and the delightful cafe au lait porters with their red caps. It looked as familiar and comforting as if I had passed through a hundred times. Instead of once, and I had the nice feeling that now something pleasant was sure to happen which one has when one first arrives in Paris.

Vivace brightened up, too, and he took me out, rather than I. I was in such a hurry to get away, for fear Potter might have come after me by a quick train and be looking somewhere that I flew along with my bag and Vivace without waiting for a porter. I followed other people out of the station with the intention of finding a cab and driving to the club where Mr. Brett was employed but though there were dozens of hackmen drawn up by the pavement they had the air of being private ones. It did seem queer that so many people should have private cars waiting for them at this particular hour (it was half past 12), but the drivers, with their tall shiny hats, smart coats and bright, clever faces, the gleam in the business 'new money' of their cab linings and appointments all forbade any other thought. I wandered wisely along the line, wondering if there were no public conveniences or any kind at the Grand Central, besides the urinals which were as appalling as a procession of African lions.

When I came to the end I caught the air of a well-groomed young man in a pale gray topcoat looking down from his high seat at the back of a dark green hansom with great round port

I can't tell what savage feed I might have been capable of doing if she had had the idea of kissing me and she hadn't. She merely patted me on the shoulder and went out leaving me to stare after her at the door after she had so far closed it.

I was horrified to find when we arrived that the American way of saying there was 'nothing doing'—not a soul in sight, and there I was, hot and hysterical with Vivace and my dress bag looking like an escaped bur glasser. I had been so nervous while I was packing that I had been afraid of everything even the soap in the soap dish which had two great blinking bubbles at one end like a pair of goblin eyes that watched me move but I was much worse now and I could have fallen on the neck of the first official person I saw moving about the station after I had waited for perhaps a quarter of an hour. I don't know what he was but he had a speech to him for news of a train for New York instead of calling the police to take Vivace and me in charge as a dangerous pair. He scratched his head and said there was a milk train due presently if I was mighty anxious.

The milk train sounded innocent and suitable to a girl traveling at night. I even if it hadn't I should have been thankful to go in it. I couldn't buy a ticket it appeared in the ordinary way but when the milk train came my man introduced me to another. Perhaps he was a milkman anyway, which would be a very good thing, he said as a favor Vivace and I could be taken. He was a nice person and he talked a great deal after the train had given several false starts and at last had got off. I sat on my bag as I had on the docks in a bare curious car which seemed to belong to the milk car sometimes when we bumped I should have fallen on the floor if it hadn't been for him. He told me all about himself, and wanted to be told all about me but I thought nice as he was it would be safer not. He asked leading questions which it was hard to keep from answering unless I hurt his feelings but I think he somehow got the impression that I was going to see a sick relative though I never actually said so.

I don't know what time I should have got to New York. I had had to travel all the way with the GARLICS BY SPURT TAKE SECOND GAME FROM COKERS IN SERIES.

Five hundred fans yesterday afternoon saw the Cokers, by an unparalleled streak of hard luck, fall before the onslaughts of the Uniontown "Champs," 9 to 5. Dame Fortune, after playing into the hands of the locals for seven innings, proved fickle, and in the eighth act of yesterday's drama Uniontown fell on Southpaw Wallace and Pitcher Yoedt for six hits and eight runs, securely sewing up the game.

Up until this inning Connellsville was the main show with Uniontown as the side attraction, and apparently the Cokers had the game sewed up 5 to 1. Up until the fateful eighth Connellsville outplayed the Onions at every stage of the game, hitting Pitcher Muldowney and Linnick to all corners of the lot. But as usual, overconfident the Cokers went up in their private at-bats in the eighth and all was off. "Hunny" Price started the game strong work in this inning by making a brilliant pickup in Ellam's territory and throwing the ball too high for Tiffany to reach. That would have been all right, but Montgomery on a throw from Price on the next play played the butter finger act and dropped the ball.

"Lefty" Wallace, not having pitched for a week, was delegated by Montgomery to deliver the goods, and the southpaw certainly did it for eight innings, and therein hangs the tale. With the whole team playing brilliant ball in the field and laying on the ball at frequent intervals, the outcome was apparently never in doubt.

Muldowney, the recruit from South Bend, who has been with the Onions for some time, was on the raised portion of the diamond for the county season, but he was wild, throwing the ball to the grand stand on two different occasions, allowing several Cokers to wander across the pan. Umpire Lindsey, as usual, helped to add a farcical tint to the proceedings. This gentleman was away off color on most of his decisions, but defeat cannot be laid on him, as he divided his raw decisions equally between the two teams.

Uniontown started the run getting by garnering one in the second on clean hitting. "Rowdy" Phillips, the child wonder, laid against one for three sacks, the pill traveling away down the first base line. Roberts added trouble by connecting for a single over second base this morning. Left on bases, Connellsville might have gotten, Phillips scoring. Connellsville got busy right away and got a good start-off, flying up the score. Francis was given free transportation, and Yoedt, in an endeavor to sacrifice, popped to Muldowney. Tiffany hit to short and Francis was out at second. Sweeney then started trouble with a baser to right, Tiffany taking third and came home when Phillips juggled the ball.

In the joyous fourth it looked all off for the Champs, as three black clad men trotted across the pan. Calhoun received a bad one on the arm and went his way. Francis laid a pretty one down the third base line and while everybody was waiting for it to roll foul took first. Yoedt filed the pews with a walk, and after Tiffany was out, Alex. Sweeney again came to the rescue with a cleaner to left, scoring Calhoun and Francis. A wild pitch later scored Yoedt. By a double, a sacrifice and a long fly, the Cokers again scored in the next spasm.

By request on account of the fatal eighth is omitted. Suffice to say, however, that the locals had three errors and the visitors six hits. The score: C. VILLE. A. H. R. P. A. E. Price, 2, 1, 0, 2, 4, 5, 1; Montgomery, 2, 3, 1, 2, 4, 5, 1; Ellam, 3, 0, 0, 3, 6, 1; Calhoun, 1, 0, 1, 0, 0, 0; Francis, 1, 1, 1, 0, 0, 0; Yoedt, 1, 0, 1, 0, 0, 0; Tiffany, 1, 0, 1, 0, 0, 0; Sweeney, 0, 4, 0, 2, 4, 0, 1; Wallace, 1, 0, 0, 0, 1, 0; Muldowney, 1, 0, 1, 0, 0, 0; Linnick, 1, 0, 1, 0, 0, 0. Totals, 30, 5, 8, 27, 14, 4. UNIONTOWN. A. H. R. P. A. E. Ellam, 3, 1, 0, 0, 3, 0; Phillips, 2, 1, 0, 0, 3, 0; Roberts, 1, 0, 0, 0, 3, 0; Price, 2, 1, 0, 0, 3, 0; McCloskey, 2, 0, 0, 0, 3, 0; Redman, 2, 0, 0, 0, 3, 1; Frankenberg, 0, 2, 1, 1, 5, 0; Muldowney, 0, 0, 0, 0, 1, 0; Linnick, 0, 0, 0, 0, 1, 0. Totals, 40, 0, 10, 27, 8, 1.

Batted for Wallace in ninth. Connellsville 10, 3, 1, 0, 0, 0, 5. Uniontown 5, 1, 0, 0, 0, 0, 8. Summary: Two base hits, Montgomery, K. Price, Ellam. Three base hit, Phillips. Sacrifice hits, Montgomery 2, Ellam, Francis, K. Price. Stolen bases, K. Price, Ellam, Sweeney, M. Price. Bases on balls, off Wallace 1, off Yoedt 1, off Muldowney 2, off Linnick 1. Struck out, by Wallace 2, by Yoedt 1, by Muldowney 2, by Linnick 0. Hit by pitcher, Randolph, Calhoun. Wild pitches, Muldowney 1, Linnick 2. Hits, off Wallace seven in seven innings; off Yoedt, three in two innings; off Muldowney, four in three innings; off Linnick, four in five innings. Left on bases, Connellsville 4, Uniontown 7. Time, 2:30. Umpire, Lindsey.

TWO PLAYERS WHO ARE DOING YEOMAN SERVICE FOR DETROIT.

The four-cornered race for the pennant in the American League is sharing interest with the National League struggle. The mighty Ty Cobb of Detroit still stands at the head of the batting list. Captain Schaefer insists that the Tigers will hold the lead until the end of this season.

KEEP UP THEIR STREAK.

Tail Enders Defeat Charleroi and Cokers Hold Third Place. GRAFTON, W. Va., Sept. 2.—Grafton continued their unexpected winning streak by taking over the Charleroi Charbons in a sharp ten inning fracas here yesterday. Melvaine for the Wanderers, had everything while Osborne was touched up with men on the circuit. Charleroi tied the score in the eighth but lost out in the tenth when Grafton scored one run by bunching three hits. The score: Grafton 10, 0, 0, 1, 1, 0, 0, 0, 1, 0, 0, 2. Charleroi 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 1, 1, 0, 0, 0, 2. Batteries: Melvaine and Bouldin; Osborne and Dalley.

Classified Ads. The Courier bring results. Only one cent a word. Try them.

CLARKSBURG WON.

By Bunching Their Hits They Win Game from Fairmont. CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 2.—In an interesting fielding contest between Clarksburg and Fairmont, the locals drew the long end of a 4 to 3 score. The game was won for the Drummers by bunching three hits in the seventh. Hunt had the locals on his staff until that round. Fletcher pitched good ball for the Drummers. The score: Clarksburg 4, 0, 0, 0, 0, 3, 0, 1, 4. Fairmont 0, 0, 0, 0, 1, 0, 2, 0, 3. Batteries: Fletcher and Gribben; Hunt and Jackley.

Baseball Babble. A heart-breaker. Who would have thought it? The Onions braced in the eighth. Every time Alex. Sweeney came to the bat the Onions outlanders would back up against the fence. Redman looks like a has-been. Frankenberg has the Youngstown cast-off skinned 40 different ways. Muldowney went the way of all wild pitchers and was succeeded by Linnick. The crowd was yelling for Kruger to come out and take his medicine. R. P. Kennedy, who has the reputation of not having missed an opening game in Pittsburgh for five years, left in the fifth inning. P. H., or "Pig Head" Hilley, did nothing the first two times at bat, but on his last three trips to the plate

BASEBALL RESULTS

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

At Cincinnati. R H E. Pittsburgh 3, 0, 2, 3, 0, 0, 0, 10, 12, 3. Cincinnati 0, 1, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 1, 2, 3. Maddox and Gibson; Volz, Coakley and McLean.

Second game. R H E. Pittsburgh 0, 0, 0, 0, 3, 1, 0, 2, 9, 10, 0. Cincinnati 0, 2, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 2, 9, 2. Leever and Gibson; Campbell and Schiel.

At New York. R H E. New York 0, 1, 0, 0, 0, 0, 2, 0, 1, 4, 10, 1. Boston 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 1, 0, 0, 0, 1, 5, 1. Wittas and Brennan; and Needham; Tuckey, Dornier and Smith.

Second game. R H E. New York 4, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 4, 8, 0, 0. Boston 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 6, 1, 1. Mathewson, Taylor and Brennan; and Needham; Flaherty, Ferguson and Graham.

At Chicago. R H E. St. Louis 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 1, 3, 1, 3, 3. Chicago 1, 1, 0, 0, 1, 0, 0, 0, 4, 7, 1. Beebe, Lush and Moran; Reulbach and Moran.

At Philadelphia. R H E. Philadelphia 0, 0, 0, 0, 1, 3, 0, 0, 4, 7, 2. Brooklyn 0, 0, 0, 1, 0, 0, 0, 0, 1, 2, 6, 2.

Second game. R H E. Philadelphia 0, 2, 1, 0, 0, 0, 3, 3, 9, 11, 1. Brooklyn 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 4, 4. McQuillin and Dooin; Bell, Wilhelm and Farmer.

Standing of the Clubs. W. L. Pct. New York 71, 46, .552. Pittsburgh 72, 47, .595. Chicago 71, 48, .597. Philadelphia 62, 52, .544. Cincinnati 58, 62, .483. Boston 50, 69, .420. Brooklyn 43, 73, .371. St. Louis 42, 75, .359.

Games Tomorrow. Pittsburgh at Cincinnati. St. Louis at Chicago. Philadelphia at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. At Washington. R H E. Washington 1, 0, 2, 2, 1, 0, 0, 0, 6, 12, 1. Boston 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 4, 0, 0. Smith, Hughes and Warner; Cleotis, Arellanes and Donohue.

At Detroit. R H E. Cleveland 0, 1, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 1, 3, 1, 1. Detroit 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 1, 0, 0. Joss and Clarke; Winter and Schmidt.

At St. Louis. R H E. Chicago 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 4, 9, 0, 13, 16, 1. St. Louis 0, 0, 0, 1, 0, 0, 0, 2, 0, 3, 8, 2. Smith and Sullivan; Graham, Bailey, Criss and Smith.

At New York. R H E. New York 0, 0, 0, 0, 3, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 1, 4, 13, 2. Philadelphia 0, 1, 0, 0, 0, 0, 2, 0, 0, 0, 4, 3, 7, 2. Chesbro and Blair; Vickers and Schreck.

Second game. R H E. Philadelphia 1, 1, 0, 0, 0, 0, 2, 0, 4, 10, 0, 1. New York 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 1, 3, 0, 0. Coombs and Blue; Manning and Sweeney.

Standing of the Clubs. W. L. Pct. Detroit 65, 42, .558. St. Louis 67, 51, .568. Chicago 67, 52, .563. Cleveland 67, 53, .558. Philadelphia 69, 58, .544. Boston 56, 63, .471. Washington 49, 66, .426. New York 49, 80, .382.

Games Tomorrow. Boston at Washington. Cleveland at Detroit. Philadelphia at New York.

PENNA. & W. VA. LEAGUE. Yesterday's Results. Uniontown 10, Connellsville 5. Clarksburg 4, Grafton 3. Grafton 3, Charleroi 2. 10 Innings.

Standing of Clubs. W. L. Pct. Uniontown 48, 31, .607. Clarksburg 48, 47, .501. Connellsville 54, 51, .515. Charleroi 53, 51, .510. Fairmont 55, 60, .483. Grafton 53, 73, .421.

Games Today. Connellsville at Uniontown. Charleroi at Grafton. Fairmont-Clarksburg not scheduled.

slammed the ball for two singles and a double. Montgomery gathered up two hits, one a double and two sacrifices. His batting .887.

Little Josie Phillips is always a dangerous man to have at the bat with anybody on the circuit. Blancheard batted for Wallace in the ninth and succeeded as a pinch hitter, driving the ball through Barney Gilligan at shortstop.

About 25 former county seniors were scattered throughout the bleachers. During the first seven innings they did not let out a chirp.

The biggest crowd was in attendance at yesterday's contest since July 4 and the palm days of June and May. It was big enough for it to be a heart-breaker, but with Uniontown.

Every Uniontown ocker in the eighth had some kind of a hit in him, with the exception of McCloskey. The Onion leader looks as if he couldn't hit a ball. It will be but a short time until the county sent fans will get out their hummers.

The scene of the series will be shifted today to Uniontown. The day the two teams will again play at Marietta & Stillwagon park. Notwithstanding yesterday's heart-render, there will be a large crowd accompany the team.

Grafton has won three straight. What else will happen? The Clarksburg Drummers have lost

Dainty Lingerie Waists

$2.10

These are regular $3.00 and $3.50 values. Mostly large sizes.

"MOSTLY large sizes," that's the secret of the little price, for otherwise such waists would never be offered at a discount. When we make such a decided price reduction there is always a strong reason for the action. Here we offer the most desirable of shirtwaists (perfect in every way) daintily trimmed with neat val lace and insertion, fashioned from excellent quality Lingerie cloth absolutely correct in style.

We offer them at two dollars and ten cents, just because we have too many large sizes among them. Not a waist in the entire collection but that is worth $3.00, most of them $3.50, made in long and short sleeve models; there are about forty garments in the lot. The price is decidedly low and the lot small. It is therefore important that you buy early if variety is to influence your purchase.

Wright-Metzler Company.

their golden opportunity. When they lost two games to Grafton while the Cokers were cleaning up with Uniontown they lost their last chance for the pennant.

TIE IN CHURCH LEAGUE.

Lutherans and Baptists Each Secure One Tally in Game. The Lutherans and Baptists played five innings to a tie last night, 1-1, darkness stopping the game in this inning. Snyder for the Lutherans pitched nice ball, while the feature work of the Baptists was done by Catcher Thomas. The Christians are now well in the lead in the race and have the best chance for the pennant.

On Friday night the all-star team that will play the Uniontown picked team on Labor Day will practice at Marietta & Stillwagon Park. All members are requested to make it a point to be present. Tonight the Christians and the Lutherans are scheduled and the league will close tomorrow night with a game between the Lutherans and the Baptists.

CONNELLSVILLE CHURCH LEAGUE. Yesterday's Results. Lutherans 1, Baptists 1.

Standing of the Clubs. W. L. Pct. Christians 1, 1, .500. Lutherans 1, 1, .500. Baptists 1, 1, .500.

Games This Week. Today, Lutherans vs. Christians. Thursday, Lutherans vs. Baptists. Friday, practice of the all star team.

WATER IS COSTING $2,000 EACH DAY.

Coal Companies in Westmoreland County Running Trains of Tank Cars Because of Drought.

IRWIN, Pa., Sept. 2.—Mines that will not go out of commission on account of the water famine within the next few days are those that are buying water from the water companies supplying towns or hauling it in tank cars from the rivers. The Westmoreland shaft east of town is getting its supply from the water company through a pipe line specially laid to the main half a mile away. At the big Rilton mine what water that was in the reservoir was mixed with water coming from the mine until the former was exhausted.

The Keystone Coal & Coke Company has put a train of tank cars in commission to supply its various mines and the Janison Coal Company has had a train running for several days. The former is buying its water from the Westmoreland Water Company and the Janison Company draws its supply from the Loyalhanna river.

It is estimated that water is costing the coal companies $2,000 a day in this field.

When You Want Anything advertised in our classified column. The cost? 10 a word.

JOHN ARBUTHNOT FISHER.

Admiral Sir John Arbuthnot Fisher, a splendid veteran of England's sea power, is making a strenuous effort against the attempts of the Liberal cabinet to reduce the naval appropriations which had been planned by the Lords of Admiralty on the same huge scale as has been the case in recent years. Sir John has notified the government that he will fight any reduction of naval strength or naval building plans. He has announced that he will resign his post and appeal to Parliament to itself in an attempt to prevent any falling off in England's naval strength. He entered the navy way back in 1854, and has held every post of honor possible for a British seaman. He has been through four or five wars and won many medals for conspicuous bravery.

FIRE DESTROYS HOUSE.

Dwelling of Clem Funkhouser Burned to Ground on Monday.

NORMATVILLE, Sept. 2.—The dwelling house of Clem Funkhouser, near Mill Run, was entirely destroyed by fire with all its contents on Monday afternoon about 5 o'clock. The fire originated from a defective flue. The loss will reach $1,800, with $600 insurance on the house and $200 on the household effects. This is the second time Mr. Funkhouser has sustained loss by fire.

ANOTHER STRANGE FIRE.

Barn in Springfield Township Destroyed by Flames—No Cause is Found.

NORMALVILLE, Sept. 2.—The barn of S. W. Whitkey, west of this place, was consumed by fire with all its contents last Friday evening about 6 o'clock.

The origin of the fire is a mystery, as no one was known to be about the barn and the throwing was done the day before. Mr. Whitkey estimates his loss at $1,000, with no insurance.

When You Want Anything advertised in our classified column. The cost? 10 a word.

Autumn Season Coming.

The Union Supply Company stores are filling up with new goods for Fall business. Our purchasing department has been busy for the last three months picking up the choicest things in the market, and they are now on exhibition and for sale in every one of our great system of stores.

Remember, we carry a general line, every class of merchandise that you want. If you happen to ask for some article that we have not got in stock, we can get it for you. We can order it and get it for you on short notice.

There Are Good Stylish Lines for Women and Girls.

We have beautiful lines of dry goods and notions. We have the newest and most stylish made-up garments for women, girls and children that the market produces, and we believe our prices are as low as you can buy this high class of merchandise anywhere; perhaps we are a little lower than most stores. Come around early and get the choice of the stocks.

UNION SUPPLY COMPANY.

63 LARGE DEPARTMENT STORES Located in Westmoreland, Fayette, Allegheny Co.'s.

NEW WHEELING DEPOT.

B. & O. Completes Structure There Costing $2,000,000.

The new passenger station built by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Wheeling, W. Va., is completed and will be opened to the public today. Tomorrow passenger trains will begin steaming into and departing from this terminal. This announcement is made by W. C. Love, General Superintendent at Wheeling.

The station is one of the most complete and handsome on the entire system of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and the equal of any in the country in character and finish. The construction and other extensive terminal improvements at Wheeling cost about $2,000,000.

Here's Football Material.

The Keystone Victrola, Joseph F. Whitman, 1205 Penn avenue, Johnsville, averaging between 90 and 100 pounds, would like to hear from teams of corresponding weight for games from September 19 to Thanksgiving Day.

Baltimore & Ohio R. R.

LOW RATE-ONE WAY COLONIST FARES

To Principal Points in CALIFORNIA, ARIZONA, IDAHO, BRITISH COLUMBIA, MEXICO, NEW MEXICO, NEVADA, OREGON, WASHINGTON.

On Sale Daily From August 31 to October 30, 1908, inclusive.

For Tickets and full information call on or address Ticket Agents, Baltimore & Ohio R. R.

JOHNSTON COAL COMPANY.

Dealers in COAL AND COKE. Lamp, Box or Mine and Stack Coal. Bell Phone 130. Tel-State 411. Office 283 East Main street, Connellsville, Pa.

TRY OUR CLASSIFIED ADS.